COLLIDES WITH A BICYCLE.

Asaph Buxton of Cumberland Center was calling on friends in the South Portland district Tuesday, and when asked if on his last drive across the country he avoided his usual unfortunate collisions with "scorchers" he replied, "Not by a good deal. This morning in coming through Deering I was just turning off the track of the electric when a young girl came wabbling along on her wheel. Just as she reached my team she seemed suddenly to lose all momentum. The bicycle sort of listed, to use a mariner's expression, and struck the back wheel of my wagon. Off she went and my wheel went over the 'bike' and smashed it. 'You are a devilish fool,' I would just like to get your name," said the girl as she picked herself up. I replied, 'Just take out your note book and pencil and you shall have my name.' The matter then ended for the time being, and Mr. Buxton awaits results with not the slightest trepidation.

It will be good news to the South Portland people employed at Burrows's screen factory, Portland, to learn that they have more orders this year than any year since 1893, and will probably not shut down until the middle or last of July.

A HAPPY REUNION.

Jimmie Brown and Herbert Roche of Knightville, about the time of the breaking out of the war with Spain, enlisted in the navy and hoped to be thrown together. But the exigencies of the service sent Brown to the Solano and Roche to the St. Paul. Roche was afterwards transferred to the Helena, which was sent to Manila waters and there also was the hospital ship Solano. The two old friends accordingly met and great was the joy of both to feel once more the touch of elbows. The reunion was a happy one, and so they describe it in letters recently sent to South Portland friends.

The West High street branch will give a supper this evening from six to eight o'clock, in the church (parsonage). All are cordially invited.

LAW COURT.

The following receipt from the Law Court was received yesterday:

Knox, ss.
Alice Boardman, administratrix, vs. John M. Creighton et al.
Receipt: A declaration in case to recover damages for injuries sustained or for death occasioned by the alleged negligence of the defendant, should state the facts upon which the supposed duty of the defendant is founded. It is not enough to allege that the defendant has been guilty of negligence without alleging in what respect he was negligent and how he became bound to use care to prevent the injury to the person injured or killed.

A declaration by an administratrix, containing a single count, alleging that her intestate was killed through the negligence of the defendant, when he "was legally at work" in the defendant's quarry and when he was employed and lawfully at work in the defendant's quarry by the licensee and permission and at the request of the defendant," held bad on demurrer.

Exceptions sustained. Demurrer sustained. Declaration adjudged insufficient.

UNIVERSITY OF MAINE.

The catalogue of the University of Maine for 1898-99 has just been issued. It is a neatly printed publication of 139 pages, and contains six pages of plates showing views of some of the university buildings and equipment. It gives a list of 49 names in the faculty, an increase of nine over last year, of whom eight are connected with the school of law.

Among the new matter is a statement of the admission requirements for the Classical course, to be opened next fall. These are, English, Latin, Greek, either French or German, Roman and Greek History, Plane Geometry, and Algebra. The requirements for the Chemical, Agricultural, Preparatory Medical, Pharmacy and Engineering courses are increased by the addition of one foreign language, either ancient or modern, added to the approved list from which certificates are received upon which students are admitted to the freshman class. A description is given of the Mt. Vernon House, as the new dormitory for women has been named. In the undergraduate departments there were thirty new courses offered, in languages, science, mathematics, and engineering; thirty-one courses were given in the school of law.

The organization of the university for administrative purposes is announced, the division being into the College of Arts and Sciences, College of Agriculture, College of Engineering, College of Pharmacy, and School of Law. The most important changes are those involved in the opening of the Classical course, announced for next fall, and that of the school of law.

In the department of chemistry at the University of Maine, two seniors are engaged in the preparation of theses involving the investigation of the cyanide of silver. Walter Crockett, Rockland, is at work upon the determination of the solubility at various temperatures of calcium amyl sulphate and of strontium sulphate, and Clinton Leander Small, Auburn, upon the determination of the correct formula of one of the tungstates of chromium.

During the Massachusetts trip of the University of Maine baseball team last week three games were played and three were won. The team played at 7:30, Amherst, 12 to 0, and Trinity, 13 to 3.

Recitations for the seniors at the University of Maine ended last Friday. This week senior examinations are held, and the senior vacation begins.

CONGRESSMAN HOWARD.

Of National Reputation are the Men Who Recommend Pe-ru-na to Fellow Sufferers.

A Remarkable Case Reported From the State of New York.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES }
WASHINGTON, Feb. 4th, 1899.
Per-na Drug Mfg. Co., Columbus, O.:
Gentlemen—I have taken Pe-ru-na now for two weeks, and find I am very much relieved. I feel that my cure will be permanent. I have also taken it for la grippe, and I take pleasure in recommending Pe-ru-na as an excellent remedy to all fellow sufferers.

Very Respectfully, M. W. Howard.
Congressman Howard's home address is Fort Payne, Ala.

Most people think that catarrh is a disease confined to the head and nose. Nothing is farther from the truth. It may be that the nose and throat is the most often affected by catarrh, but if this is so it is only because these parts are more exposed to the vicissitudes of the climate than the other parts of the body.

"Every cavity, every duct, every cavity of the human body is liable to catarrh. A multitude of ailments depend on catarrh. This is true winter and summer. Catarrh causes many cases of chronic disease, where the victim has not the slightest suspicion that catarrh has anything to do with it.

Spring catarrh is characterized by symptoms referable to the stomach and nervous system; nervousness, lassitude, general "tired out" feeling, in which sleep does not seem to refresh or rest restore.

The function of the stomach is deranged, producing dyspepsia and indigestion, which so deranges the system that the food seems to fail to nourish the body. Pe-ru-na is an unfailing specific for all these conditions. It is the only real scientific spring medicine, because it removes the source of spring difficulties. Spring catarrh is the cause of all those derangements of the blood and nervous system peculiar to spring. Other spring medicines may relieve temporarily, but Pe-ru-na cures permanently by removing the cause.

Mr. A. C. Lockhart, W. Henrietta, N. Y., Box 83, in a letter written to Dr. Hartman says the following of Pe-ru-na: "About fifteen years ago I commenced to be ailing, and consulted a physician. He pronounced my trouble a species of dyspepsia, and advised me, after he had treated me about six months, to get a leave of absence from my business and go into the country. I did so and got temporary relief. I went back to work again, but was taken with very distressing pains in my stomach.

"I seldom had a passage of the bowels naturally. I consulted another physician with no better results. The disease kept growing on me, until I had exhausted the ability of sixteen of Rochester's best physicians. The last physician recommended me to give up my work and go south, after he had treated me for one year.

"I was given a thorough examination with the X-ray. They could not even determine what my trouble was. Some of your testimonials in the Rochester papers seemed to me worthy of consideration, and I made up my mind to try a bottle of Pe-ru-na. Before the bottle was half gone I noticed a change for the better. I am now on the fifth bottle, and have not an ache or pain anywhere. My bowels move regularly every day, and I have taken on eighteen pounds of flesh.

"I have recommended Pe-ru-na to a great many, and they recommend it very highly. I have told several people that if they would take a bottle of Pe-ru-na, and could then candidly say that it had not benefited them, I would pay for the medicine."

Send for free catarrh book. Address Pe-ru-na Drug Mfg. Co., Columbus, O.

The Hartford Courant declares that the State constitution of Connecticut, though ancient is good, and explains that it ought to know what it is talking about because, "we have been in journalism right here for one hundred and thirty-four years already."

The New York Mail and Express, which is pretty near the administration, tells Secretary Alger that if he is going to be an active candidate for the Michigan Senate he ought to resign from the Cabinet. That would certainly seem to be the proper thing to do, but Mr. Alger is no great stickler for propriety. If he had been he would have retired ere this.

Ambassador White is hopeful that the Hague conference will bear fruit, especially in the direction of popularizing arbitration, as a means of settling international disputes, and making naval warfare more humane. He intimates that some of the reports of disagreement and hitches have been exaggerated. That is not unlikely, since the conference is held behind closed doors, and what takes place in it probably passes through many mouths before it reaches the newspapers.

It is surprising to learn from a Chicago paper that in the great State of Illinois savings banks are so poorly regulated by State control that an institution calling itself a bank was able to invest the depositors' money promiscuously in land speculations and whatever other fantastic ways the lively imagination of the proprietor suggested. The concern was hopelessly insolvent for months; yet the sign hung out to lure new victims. The honesty and security of savings bank management is one of the strongest reasons for the prosperity of New England. Thrift is encouraged when the results of thrift are secure.

Peter S. McNally, of Boston, the long-distance swimmer, proposes to swim the Hellepontus. The feat has been performed by Leander, who did it for the love of the priestess Hero, and by Lord Byron, the poet and adventurer. McNally hopes to be the first man to put this feat of demi-gods and poets on a strictly professional basis. He proposes to out-do the amateurish efforts of Leander and Byron by swimming the strait in its widest place, and then swimming back. The name of McNally ought to have a comfortable place in the classical dictionaries of the year 3000 A. D.

The Boston Globe still continues to urge the Hon. William H. Moody, of Massachusetts, for the Speakership of the House of Representatives. There does not seem to be much evidence that Mr. Moody is pushing himself forward at all. His "boom," if it may be so called, is evidently in the hands of friends and acquaintances who admire his abilities and believe that he has a chance of succeeding in the contest. The support which he is getting is highly creditable to him, especially as he has served only two terms in the House. But in that short time he has forged far to the front, making himself master of the methods of doing business in the House, and of the subjects which have fallen within his line of work. As a member of the great committee on appropriations he has had an opportunity for advancement, which he has improved to the utmost. Whether or not a man so young in years and service may attain the Speakership is a question that will comprise many of the difficulties in his way.

The Missouri legislature has passed a bill directed against department stores and the Governor has signed it. It applies only to the cities of St. Louis, Kansas City and St. Joseph, and only to concerns that employ 15 persons. It divides merchandise into 88 classes, and a store that wants to deal in more than one class must pay a license of from $300 to $500 for every additional class. The law does not apply to country stores which may keep as many kinds of goods as they see fit. The merchants affected by the law are going to attack it in the courts on the ground of unconstitutionality. It is difficult to see where the legislature gets the power which it has assumed in this case. Department stores are not dangerous to the public health or the public morals, and therefore apparently not proper subjects for regulation under the police powers of the state. The legislature might have passed the law and the governor signed it in obedience to public clamor, expecting that the courts would wipe it out. Such transactions on the part of legislators and governors are not unknown.

Since the Czar's peace conference was called together Turkey has increased her army by over six hundred skeleton battalions, which would, on a war footing, contain 350,000 men. As Turkey had before this 750,000 men with thorough military training it is evident that this increase will make her army one of the most powerful in Europe. It is a great mistake to call the Turk the sick man of Europe. The war with Greece showed the rapidity with which his army could be mobilized, and the skill with which it could be handled. It is armed with Mauser rifles and the soldiers are renowned for their bravery. If Europe wishes to disarm she will hardly feel like doing so with such a great and fanatical military power on her eastern border. The Turk has not been very troublesome for some centuries; but human wisdom cannot foresee what might result from a renaissance of the old military and fanatical spirit combined. All these complications which confront the delegates at the Hague bring one on one's toes, but somewhat neglected truth, that the American people are supremely happy in having to themselves a continent on which there are no dangerous neighbors to be feared. Crushing armaments are not necessary to us. If we assume them it will be because we want to, and not because we need to.

The negotiations at Manila have as yet reached no definite result though it can be confidently predicted, we think, that eventually they will bring about the surrender of the insurgent army and the establishment of peace for a time at least. The commissioners have evidently been authorized to modify Gen. Otis's demand for unconditional surrender for they are making some very important concessions. The Filipinos are promised a part in the government immediately and they are assured that their participation shall increase as they give evidence of ability and capacity to govern. The scheme of government outlined by the commissioners seems to look to self government at once; in the future though of course they have not authority to make a definite promise of that kind since it is the province of congress to determine the character and duration of our control of the islands. It is clear enough that the commissioners are making more concessions than were contained in the President's proclamation of last December, though our advanced imperialism have insisted that the insurgents should be compelled to surrender unconditionally with no promises made to them at all.

Ex-Gov. Northern in his apology for lynching speaking of the negro's relation to law says:

Just as is the case with his franchise so the negro is as absolutely protected in his life, liberty and property as is the white man.

If the ex-Governor had said that the negro's life and liberty were protected as well as his franchise we should assent. They are, undoubtedly and not only as well but a good deal better. His franchise is not protected at all. On the contrary he has for the most part been deprived of it either by force or fraud. Neither in his franchise nor in his "inalienable rights" is he so well protected as the white man though the difference in the case of the latter is not so great as in the case of the former. It is useless to undertake to say that while law breakers are treated with the same harshness as the South as black ones even when they are guilty of the crime of rape. Hatred of his race in the case of the black criminal is added to hatred of his crime and very materially heightens the vengeance that is wreaked upon him. Nor is it true that it is only for the crime of rape that the negro is lynched. A considerable percent of the lynchings are for other crimes and sometimes as in the case of the postmaster at Lake City, South Carolina, for no crime at all. The facts are too patent for anybody to undertake to claim that the negro is lynched for one crime only or that the same justice is meted out to him as to the white man. Gov. Northern says the lynchings will stop when the outrages stop. But as a good many of them have occurred where there have been no outrages at all, manifestly this answer cannot be accepted as trustworthy. There was no outrage at Lake City at all. Yet the colored postmaster was assassinated and his child riddled with bullets. No outrage was committed by the minister who in Gov. Northern's own city of Atlanta denounced the fiendish cruelty of the mob that burned Sam Hose. Yet the minister was threatened with assassination and his church desecrated. It is useless to undertake to claim that all Southern violence originates simply in hatred of crime. Race hatred has quite as much to do with it in many cases, and in some far more.

CURRENT COMMENT.

THE AMERICAN SOLDIER IN THE PHILIPPINES.

(Rumford Falls Times)

The editor of the Times has a letter from an American soldier at the front in the Philippine war. He says: "The out and out truth with us is that most of us are in sympathy with the insurgents to a certain extent. All American boys have been brought up in a love of freedom, and to fight a people who are seeking what we ourselves value so highly, goes against our grain. We have been taught, since we were children, that we were to do what we do but when we come out of this we are at liberty to do something else, and express our opinion of the affair freely."

The bright, intelligent American soldier at the front thinks and reasons thus. If an American citizen at home reasons and utters similar sentiments he is classed by some as traitorous.

SEVEN SANCTIFIED SISTERS.

It is said they keep the Best Hotel in the State of Texas.

(Chicago Record.)

They say that the best hotel in Texas is to be found at Belton, a town on the Santa Fe road, and it is kept by "seven sanctified sisters," as the proprietors are popularly called.

Several years ago a woman in that place and her husband quarrelled over the best way of expounding the Scriptures to a Sunday school class, and were so stubborn that they separated and were finally divorced. This family controversy was taken up by the town, which soon distinctly divided between the adherents of the husband and the adherents of the wife. The result was a large crop of divorcees, and seven husbandless women, including the original cause of the commotion, joined together and rented the town hotel. One of them did the cooking, another was parlor maid, a third made up the beds, and so they divided the work among them and ran the establishment upon the co-operative plan. They would not employ a man about the place, although the most of their patrons were men, of course. People say that women travelers preferred to stop elsewhere, and that the world was wiser. One of the "seven sanctified sisters" used to drive a big carryall down to the railway station three or four times a day to meet the trains, but she let the regular transfer company handle the baggage.

The hotel prospered from the beginning and there was no reason why it should not, for everything was neat and home-like and the cooking was the best in Texas, which is not saying much, perhaps, but is a good reason why it was so popular. Every Sunday it was crowded. The drummers used to swarm there from all the northern-central part of the State, and every passenger on the Santa Fe train was an advertising agent. The "sanctified sisters" made money, as they deserved to do; they enlarged their establishment, and a big laundry in connection with it, where the drummers left their soiled clothes to be done up while they were out during week. Then they started a laundry there, with equal success, and now they are talking of starting one in New York.

DEWEY'S SWORD.

Worthy to Take a Place Among the Conceptions of the Arabian Knights.

(St. Nicholas.)

"The Sword of Bunker Hill" will perhaps be eclipsed in history by the sword which has been found by Admiral Dewey, the victor of Manila Bay. This weapon, authorized by Congress in June, 1898, is now completed, and in a wealth of decoration is worthy to take a place among the jeweled swords described in the "Arabian Nights." Both blade and scabbard are of steel, both overlaid entirely with pure gold, and all other parts are of solid gold exquisitely wrought.

The steel blade was made at the United States arsenal at Springfield, and is finely tempered to the exact degree of flexibility required to make a perfect sword-blade. This blade, graceful in shape and well-balanced, is damasked with gold, on which is engraved this inscription: "The gift of the nation to Rear Admiral George Dewey, U. S. N., in memory of the victory at Manila Bay, May 1, 1898." Further ornamentation on the blade consist of a procession of Phœnician galleys, emblematic of sea power, a flight of eagles, the symbols of our nation, and festoons of laurel, signifying glory.

"Olympia" is engraved on the pommel of the sword, also a device representing Carthage, which is the zodiacal sign for December, the month in which Dewey was born. On the collar of the sword are the arms and shield of our country, and below them the arms of Vermont, the admiral's native state, and its motto, "Freedom and Unity." These are enameled in colors and the collar is further decorated with stars and oak leaves. The grip or handle of the sword is covered with shagreen, or sharkskin, held in place by gold wire, and studded with stars, which also represent a flying eagle bearing in its beak a laurel wreath. On the golden scabbard is the monogram "G. D." and below it, in small letters, "The gift of the nation to Rear Admiral George Dewey, U. S. N." The scabbard is further ornamented with a star in the center of each, and a row of swimming dolphins on each side. The scabbard is further ornamented with signs of oak-leaves and acorns, and the ferrule or lower end is formed by two gold dolphins gracefully twisted together. The belt is of specially woven material, with buckle and rings and swivels all of gold and ornamented with oak-leaves and acorns, while the bullion tassels and trappings are such handsome that those usually made, being chosen material and finished with special care.

The whole fits in an oaken case lined with blue velvet, the cover of which is a gold eagle and a shield inscribed "Rear Admiral George Dewey U. S. N."

ALGER SHOULD RESIGN.

So Says the Mail and Express, an Administration Organ.

(New York Mail and Express.)

The eye of the Nation is at this moment fixed upon Michigan. The Senatorial contest in that State has reached a point where all effort to rob it of national significance becomes absurd. The contention that the fight is merely a personal one between Senator McMillan, whose term will expire in March, 1901, and Secretary Alger, who claims to succeed him, is a weak and unbecoming subterfuge. The administration cannot avoid embarrassment when a prominent member of the President's official family openly declares political war upon the State leader who has made himself peculiarly the representative and champion in Michigan of the President's policies, from the day of inauguration.

The election of the Legislature that is to elect Senator McMillan's successor occurs simultaneously with the Presidential election. Therefore, when the new Senator is chosen Mr. McKinley—assuming his renomination to be inevitable—will already have been elected for a second term. Of course, Michigan's electoral vote cannot be affected by the Senatorial fight and the consequent bitter factional division in the Republican party there. There is no good reason why Gen. Alger should not seek a seat in the upper house of Congress, and were he to make this contest an issue, it would be a national administration embarrassment to the latter could easily be avoided.

That is the rub. The Secretary should resign, and he has declared his candidacy. Good taste and party loyalty alike demand it, and his vindication in the matter of army scandals paves the way smoothly. His failure to resign only means that for the next eighteen months the President must stand by and see his Cabinet made the center of a battle the center of which should be confined to the borders of the State—a battle between two forces equally loyal to him and two men who assert equal allegiance to his nation. We can see no reason why a citizen, whatever assaults may be made upon him during these eighteen months will call for no recognition by the administration. As a member of the President's family, it is vain to declare that such assaults could bring no embarrassment to the administration.

It is up to the Secretary of War. He has had his fling at Cabinet fame, if not at extreme Cabinet usefulness. It is time for him to retire. He was a large crop of divorcees, and seven husbandless women, including the original cause of the commotion, joined together and rented the

TRIUMPH OF PROTECTION.

How the McKinley Duty on Tin Plate Has Created a New Industry.

(New York Sun.)

It is now nearly eight years since the duty on tin plate went into effect and the results of those eight years of American energy and enterprise, backed by the American protective policy, are surprising alike to the advocates and the opponents of that protective policy. In the first six months of the industry, from July 1 to December 31, 1891, the total production of tin and tin plate, the latter being used almost exclusively for roofing purposes, was 2,236,743 pounds. The first full year of the manufacture of tin-covered plate in this country resulted in the production of upward of 42,000,000 pounds. In 1893 the product was nearly tripled in volume, reaching 123,600,000 pounds. From that time there has been a steady increase until in the year 1898 the mills of the United States produced 784,200,000 pounds of plate. The total product in the seven and a half years, up to the first of last December, was 2,383,590,629 pounds of tin and tin plate.

Instead of increasing the cost of canned goods to the consumer, the duty on tin plate has had a contrary effect. Tin cans for packing purposes are sold today at packers 25 per cent. lower than in 1894, and instead of depending upon the West for product the packers are enabled to secure every pound of tin that they need right from the mills of the United States. No other words the tariff act of 1890 has absolutely established a new industry, giving employment to thousands of skilled mechanics, who, like the men of Yonkers who created so profound an impression in the mind of Mr. Laessle Carr and his associates, are able to possess their own homes, to fit them up with no British workingman can, and to supply their families with better food than any British workingman can. And this has all been done through the tariff act of 1890, commonly known as the McKinley bill.

Not only has the price of tin plate been reduced 25 per cent., but a similar reduction has resulted in the cost of roofing tin, so that the builder as well as the packer is able to reduce his prices for roofing to the extent of 25 per cent. below the figures of nine years ago.

Examine the new oil cloth on the kitchen floor; its color and gloss are being destroyed and you may see where a cake of common soap fresh from the hot water in the scrubbing bucket has been laid out for a moment, the free alkali having eaten an impression of the cake into the bright colors.

A more careful examination will show small "pin holes" here and there where the alkali has cut through the surface to soak into and gradually weaken the whole floor covering.

This is what cheap soaps do. Use Ivory Soap, it will not injure.

MUSIC AND DRAMA.

SOUSA'S BAND.

That John Philip Sousa's lively, plain, bountiful marches, and his more ambitious compositions have lost none of their popularity, was fully attested last evening at the City hall, when a magnificent audience greeted him as he swung his baton before that wonderful organization of musicians which bears his name. Surely he has won the sobriquet of the "March King."

The programme which was rendered both afternoon and evening was well arranged, and every character of music was heard. The striking qualities of the playing by Sousa's band are too well known to need comment. Its march tempo is admirable, while in the classical compositions the band plays with excellent understanding and unity, at times with the swell of a mighty organ, again with a jingle to be whistled on the streets.

Among the many excellent new numbers was a march just written by Mr. Sousa entitled, "Hands Across the Sea." It is a reminder of the Anglo-American alliance which some people are fondly dreaming of. There is snap and dash about it, and it is destined to be a favorite. Of the heavier pieces the grand scenes from "Parsifal," by Wagner, and the "Excerpts from Siegfried," were typical and the applause which followed each was indicative of cordial appreciation.

In contrast with these, popular music such as "Georgia Camp Meeting," "The Beautiful Blue Danube," etc., were played and their renditions were of course welcome. Another new number which struck the fancy of the very large audience was "In Wartime from Indian Suite."

The concert was made doubly enjoyable by the soloists of the band and by the presence of three artists. Miss Maud Reese Davis, soprano, rendered "Bell Song from Lakme," in a sweet and sympathetic voice, and responding to an encore, gave "Will you love me when the lilies are dead," from the Charlatan. Mr. Herbert L. Clarke, cornetist, played "The Whirlwind," in an effective manner, sustaining a note a surprisingly long period, and interpreting the passages with skill. Miss Dorothy Hoyle played with much delicacy a violin solo, "Souvenir de Bayadere," which was well received.

Arthur Pryor's trombone solo, "Love Thoughts," was splendidly executed and responding to persistent applause, "Just One Girl," was exceedingly catchy.

Of course Mr. Sousa's conducting was a fascinating feature. His style has caused comment ever since he became famous. The swinging of both arms by the side and the clean cut movements of the baton were evident last evening as of yore. His concert yesterday added others to his previous triumphs and his personal greeting was an enthusiastic one. Ira Stockbridge again deserves the thanks of Portland people for a genuine musical treat.

PORTLAND THEATRE.

Nevada, the Mystery of the Mines, was the bill presented by the Maynard company at the Portland theatre last evening before a fair-sized audience, who evidenced their strong approval by spontaneous applause from time to time. The play deals with a very pretty story of Western mining life and has several pathetic as well as comedy scenes, interwoven in a splendid and interesting manner. Sara

LAND FOR FORTRESSES.

Government Officers Looking Over Tracts About Portland.

The board of officers which was instituted some time since in Washington, is now visiting the city and are looking over the various fortifications of our harbor. The purpose of their coming is best explained by the following order:

Washington, February 14, 1899. Special order, No. 37.

By direction of the Secretary of War a board of officers to consist of Col. John I. Rodgers, U. S. A., Col. Crosby P. Miller, U. S. A., Major S. W. Kossela, corps of engineers, is appointed to meet at Washington, D. C., February 15, 1899, on a soon thereafter as practical to investigate and report upon the additional land necessary at the following places to provide for the garrison which it is the intention to station at each place; also to ascertain the cost of such additional land, and whether the same will be obtained from the owner or by condemnation: Fort Preble, Portland Head, Cushing's Island, Great Hog Island, Maine.

The board accordingly began its work in Washington and one of the first things to be ascertained was the intentions of the War Department as to the prospective strength of the garrisons to be provided for. The board was instructed to act on a basis of enlisted strength at the various posts as follows, the strength of each battery being 100 men. For Fort Preble, two batteries; Portland Head, five; Cushing's Island (south), five; Great Diamond Island (north), one.

Under instructions dated in March last, Major Rosser proceeded to interview owners of property in the neighborhood of the different fortifications with a view of finding out if they were willing to sell, to get the valuation of property and the prices at which the land was held by the owners and especially to ascertain if the additional land could be obtained by purchase at reasonable prices. Major Rosser's report has not of course been made public.

The full board of officers has now come to the city and is inspecting the land in the vicinity of the different fortifications with a view of submitting to the War Department its final report and recommendations in the matters given them for investigation.

It will be some time yet before the findings of the board are made public, but it is safe to say that as the present sites were selected by the engineers' department and only land enough was purchased for the guns and no provision was made for the enlarged garrisons, since decided upon, that more land will be required and the board will so recommend. The main object of the board is to determine how this additional land best to be obtained by the government, and in the end it is more than likely, in view of the very valuations which the owners are putting on their property, that condemnatory proceedings will be resorted to.

Takes the burn out; heals the wound, cures the pain. Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, the household remedy.

LIMERICK.

Limerick, May 22.—Mrs. Abbie B. Philpot, wife of Elkanah Philpot, died on the 10th, after a lingering and very painful illness, and was buried on the 15th, the Rev. B. L. Howard, a former pastor, and Mr. Holman, the present pastor of the Free Baptist church, officiating. Mrs. Philpot was born in South Cornish 64 years and four months ago, and her married life has been spent in the beautiful country home, a mile from our village, where she died. The richly deserved esteem in which she was held was strikingly in evidence by the attendance at her funeral. She leaves besides her sorrowing husband, two children, Frank, of Windham, and Nellie, at home, with her father, to mourn her loss.

Our townsman, I. S. Libby, Esq., still lingers, though entirely helpless, and surely failing. His last look was on Saturday last, and gave the town's people a great scare, partly on his account and partly for the danger it was so near. Five minutes more or less and the barn and house must have gone and with them the Free Baptist church, as the old building, though it would scarcely be expected he could live. Children with matches about the fire.

The Rev. Mr. Holman, at the memorial service held at the Free Baptist church, on Sunday next, at the Free Baptist church, the other churches joining in a union service. The Rev. Mr. Higgins is to deliver the Memorial Day address on Tuesday following, at the Congregational church.

Captain John Thurstup has been home for a short visit, and has taken his wife to New York with him to stay till he sails on his next voyage.

Mrs. Wedgewood is still living, though very aged and feeble. She has scarcely been expected to live for years.

C. H. Adams, Esq., has treated his wife and house to new coats of paint, and others are following his example.

Chas. Felch is building an addition to his house, of somewhat large proportions, including a carriage house, and connecting with his barn changing the appearance of his home very greatly for the better.

Our scarlet fever scare is over, but one case having occurred in our village. No public graduations this year.

Hertford is making a position with H. N. Leavitt & Co., of Sanford, and enters upon his work this week.

BALDWIN.

North Baldwin, May 22.—The much needed rain came Friday, and continued until Sunday night, but this morning it is clear and pleasant.

Most of the farmers have planted their potatoes. It looks as though the apple crop would be small. Early frosts will not hurt them, and there are only a few blossoms on the winter apple trees.

Grass has been looking bad, but the recent rain has improved it. Mrs. R. W. Lunt has been visiting Mrs. E. C. Thorne.

Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Partridge of Buxton visited here on Monday, and Mrs. S. H. Clark, May 13 and 14.

Mr. Joseph Parker has bought the old schoolhouse at North Baldwin, what was District No. 4, and will tear it down this week.

Arbor Day was observed at the school house on the hill by the teacher's assisting school, in the afternoon, and the time used by teacher and pupils in beautifying the grounds. They arranged three flower beds and planted a very pretty maple tree. These grounds are spacious and with a little work it can be made one of the prettiest places in town. We are glad a beginning has been made in the right direction.

Mrs. Emmeline Wendling is visiting Mrs. J. M. Sanborn.

Mrs. Alfred Murch and son of Mesachensis, are expected at Mr. Almon Murch's, Tuesday.

A large number attended the wedding reception of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene H. Houghton, at Mr. W. W. May's, May 10. It is hoped that the difficulty in regard to the location of the school house on the hill has been settled so there will be no more trouble.

NORTH YARMOUTH.

East North Yarmouth, May 23.—Mr. Frank Lobdell from Boston, stopping at the home farm in Pownall for a few weeks.

Mr. Frank Whitney, son of M. L. Whitney, who was severely injured while shacking cars on the Maine Central railroad, is improving. He is at the Maine General Hospital for treatment.

Mrs. James Lawrence has returned from Seabrook, accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. C. P. Cleaves and grandchildren.

Mrs. D. D. Davies is in Portland learning the millinery trade.

Clifford Young has returned from Portland, where he has been spending the winter with his mother.

This community was saddened by the sudden death of Mrs. Hannah E., wife of Walter H. Evans, which occurred at her home Monday morning, at 7.30 o'clock. She was in her usual health until a few hours before her death. Her physicians pronounced her disease apoplexy. She leaves a husband, three sons, an adopted daughter, and an aged mother and brothers to mourn her loss. Prayers at the house Tuesday, at 10 a. m. Burial Wednesday, at Millis, at 10 a. m. Lottie Haskell has gone to Wells Beach.

Mr. C. O. Bell has been painting and improving the buildings wonderfully. He is fully alive to the best interests of the community. Chester Burnell has also been making improvements on his buildings and surroundings.

Miss Lizzie Knowles has a fine collection of pansies which make a fine show.

OTISFIELD. Otisfield, May 23.—The drouth is at last broken and all nature seems refreshed with the much longed for rain.

Business the past week has been of fair proportion, with prices for breadstuffs tending upward. Flour has attracted most attention the past week, and millers have advanced their figures 20c a barrel on the new wheat. If half of the reports are true as regards the damage to the wheat crop, this situation would warrant a greater rise in flour. Corn and oats firm at previous quotations. Provisions of all kinds have a hardening tendency. Groceries steady and unchanged. Molasses in particular is very firm owing to the heavy decrease in the foreign supply. The dry fish trade is fairly good, but little, if any, pollock in the market. Potatoes rather easy in tone. Onions steady. Eggs are stiff at 14c for fresh Eastern. The West appears to be short on Eggs, which are quoted at 14c in Chicago. May steady here, while the Boston market is about 5c off. Metals unchanged.

BRIEF JOTTINGS.

George Stevens of the Lovell Arms company, is getting together 12 of the best long distance riders in this city to form a branch of the Rough Riders' Cycle club. The club will wear a uniform similar to the uniforms worn by Rough riders in the late war.

The last rites for the late Harry R.

Leach of No. 48 Chestnut street, were held from his home at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Rev. Messrs. Hack and Wright officiated. Interment was in Evergreen cemetery.

There are now 76 prisoners employed in the Cumberland work jail. This is about the average for the year, and the number will drop much lower.

It is possible that the county commissioners may not be obliged to give a hearing on the petition of the Gorham selectmen to re-define a portion of the old Gray road in that town. The section in question lies along the route of the proposed

Westbrook, Windham and Harrison electric road, and the road's engineers think they can determine its boundaries in its present condition.

There will be a meeting of the Camera club this evening at the rooms of the Portland Wheel club, for the purpose of organizing permanently. All interested are invited to be present.

Members of Forest City Lodge, No. 16,

Ancient Order of United Workmen, are requested to be present at the hall a little earlier than usual next Thursday evening,

as a short business session will be held before the smoke talk.

The street department is now completing the Avon street sidewalks, relaying a portion of those on Sherman street and those on Congress from Park to High.

The relaying of the sidewalks at the corner of Neal and Brackett streets will soon begin. The scraping machines are now working on Forest avenue and scraping crabs are still working at the East and West ends.

Inspector of Plumbing Alexander is very busy with the greatest run of inspecting he has had for several years.

This would seem to indicate an unusual amount of building this spring.

During the coming week the work of the City Diet mission will be carried on by St. Stephen's Episcopal church. The mission now has 38 patients, a little less than the usual number.

The liquor deputies made seizures yesterday at the following places: 453 and 471 Commercial street, 53 Pleasant street,

75 Center and 518 Danforth streets. All members are requested to be present.

The memorial services that were to have been held by the Union Veteran

Legion at their hall, Wednesday evening,

May 24, will be postponed for two weeks

as several of the members are occupied in the preparation of Memorial day exercises.

Services over the remains of D. M. C.

Dunn of 709 Commercial street were held from the Pine street Methodist Episcopal church at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Rev. E. S. McAllister officiated. The interment was at Evergreen cemetery.

ADMIRAL DEWEY COMING.

He Will Visit the Ottawa House This Summer.

Judging from present indications it seems reasonably certain that the hero of the American nation, Admiral George Dewey, will spend a part of this summer as the guest of Mr. B. C. Gibson at Cushing's Island.

About five years ago Admiral Dewey spent four weeks at the Ottawa and at that time expressed himself as delighted with his surroundings. He said that Casco bay was the most beautiful spot that he had yet visited.

A long time ago Mr. Gibson, who was well acquainted with the admiral, through his former visit, sent him an invitation to Manila to become his guest at the Ottawa House this summer. Mr. Gibson has recently received a letter from Admiral Dewey accepting the invitation provided he reach this country in time and can get through the business that he will necessarily be engaged in for a short time following his arrival.

The letter was written, of course, before Admiral Dewey knew just what the date of his departure from Manila would be. Now that he is on his way to this country he will arrive in time for the vacation season and will undoubtedly take advantage of Mr. Gibson's invitation and come to the Ottawa to seek the rest and relaxation which he is so much in need of. Mr. Gibson could not be found yesterday afternoon, but Mr. George P. Dewey of this city, a nephew of Admiral Dewey, admitted that he had seen the letter of acceptance and that it was undoubtedly true in every respect being dated from Manila and in the admiral's handwriting.

DREDGES AND TOWBOATS.

Sold at Auction by the United States

Marshal.

United States Marshal H. B. Saunders,

assisted by Mr. C. W. Allen of F. O.

Bailey & Co., yesterday morning, in front of the Custom House on Commercial street, sold at auction two steam dredges

and two towboats, formerly the property of the McDonald Dredging company, which has recently been at work deepening

Portland harbor. Steam Dredge No. 2

was sold to Herbert Barry, Esq., of New York, for $3,800.

Steam Dredge No. 1, was sold to Herbert Barry, Esq., of New York for $12,000.

Steamer Monitor was sold to Stephen

C. Perry, Esq., of Portland for $1,075.

Steamer Knickerbocker was sold to J.

W. Wakefield, Bath, for $4,000.

The Knickerbocker was bought by Mr.

Wakefield in the interest of the Knickerbocker Steam Towing company of Bath.

All the others were bought in the interest of New York mortgages. The dredges and towboats were recently seized by creditors to secure unpaid claims for supplies.

HORSE STEALING.

This is the Charge Made Against William E. Sanborn.

W. E. Sanborn, alias William A. Sanford, alias George Pride, was arrested

here Monday night, just as he was about to leave for Boston on the boat. He is 39 years old, 5 feet, 9 inches tall, weighs

180 pounds, has a smooth face from which a beard has recently been shaven, light complexion, wore brown checked trou-ers, light overcoat, light hat with black band. At the time of his arrest he had on a blue cap and the hat was in his possession. Saturday night, it is charged,

he went to Sawyer's stable and hired a horse and wagon, saying that he wanted to go to Deerling. He went to Old Orchard and left the horse and wagon. He procured another horse and wagon from

Stable Keeper Whittier of Old Orchard, drove to Portland and put his horse up on Sunday morning at Ellis's stable. Afterwards he traded wagons with Ellis, getting a $10 check to boot, which he afterwards cashed. Mr. Sawyer has recovered his horse and wagon and Mr. Whittier has recovered his.

Sanborn will be put before the court

this morning for obtaining money under false pretenses and other charges.

LEWIS-CLARK.

There was a very pretty home wedding

last evening at the residence of Mr. Ervin

A. Clark at 127 Cumberland street. Mr.

Alfred A. Clark, one of the popular conductors on the Cape division of the Portland railroad, was united in marriage to Miss Ethel B. Lewis. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. S. Ayres before a large gathering of the friends and relatives of the happy pair. Mr. Leo A.

Clark, a brother of the groom, was the best man and Miss Alice Vickery was the bridesmaid. The wedding march was played by Miss Fannie Wheeler. After the ceremony occurred a wedding reception which was attended by a great many friends of the bride and groom. Refreshments were served by Miss Vickery, Miss

Mildred Brazier, the Misses McCullum

and Mesdames Knowles and E. A. Clark.

Among the many pretty wedding gifts

was a handsome chair from the employes

of the Cape division of the Portland railroad.

BROKE INTO A LAUNDRY.

Some time between ten o'clock Saturday night and Monday morning thieves broke into the Cumberland steam laundry and stole about $40 in cash from the safe. Saturday night he placed the silver in a bag and rolled the bills up separately. These were placed in the safe and the laundry closed as usual. A search of the premises revealed that entrance was effected by means of a window in the basement. This window had not been unlocked since last summer and the fact that the safe was not damaged in any way leads to the supposition that whoever the culprit was he was well acquainted with the premises.

Don't let the little ones suffer from eczema or other torturing skin diseases.

No need for it. Doan's Ointment cures.

Can't harm the most delicate skin.

At any drug store, 50 cents.

THE STRIKING TRACKMEN.

Their Demands are Contained on the Following Schedule.

There was practically no change yesterday along the line of the Grand Trunk and from Portland as far as Sarnia,

Ontario, the striking trackmen were standing resolutely by their guns.

The general nature of the grievances complained of by the men and their demands in detail are contained in the following schedule which was submitted to Mr. McGuigan, general superintendent of the Grand Trunk Railway system.

The schedule is signed by William Pois, as chairman, and J. Harris, secretary of the executive committee of the trackmen,

and reads:

We, the undersigned, as delegates, representing the members of the United

Brotherhood of Railway Trackmen, employed on the Grand Trunk Railway system, beg the favor of an interview with the object of discussing the adoption of the following proposals:

(1) That all permanent employees under a roadmaster be granted a raise of twenty per cent on present wages.

(2) That all permanent employees are to be regarded as in line of promotion, seniority to have the preference where merit and other qualifications are equal.

(3) That all trackmen who resume work after hours or on Sunday receive time and a half for the same.

(4) That the permanent staff on each section be one man to every two miles of track, or fraction of two miles, not including foreman. All terminal points and yards to have one man to every ten switches in addition to one man to every two miles of main line track.

(5) That the wages of men employed on snow-ploughs and scrapers be—foreman, three dollars per day of ten hours;

trackmen two dollars per day of ten hours.

(6) That the hours of work on Satur-
